Daily access to audio newspapers helps you:

- Stay up-to-date on current events.
- Follow trends in your profession.
- Help your children with school projects.

NEWSLINE® allows you to choose whichever paper you wish to read and which sections. Or, you can just skim the headlines. You can set the voice, speed and tone of what you hear.

NEWSLINE® helps to expand the information access for Massachusetts residents with disabilities. You can listen to your favorite newspaper on the telephone, at your convenience.

NEWSLINE® is sponsored by the Perkins Braille & Talking Book Library with funding from the Massachusetts Legislature and the Board of Library Commissioners.

More than 225 national and home-town newspapers available by voice 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

National newspapers:

New York Times
Christian Science Monitor
USA Today
Wall Street Journal
Washington Post

Massachusetts newspapers include:

The Boston Globe
Associated Press — Massachusetts
